With Hairball Control Formula Light, you can recommend a winning control combination to help maintain a healthy weight and fight hairballs in your weight-prone patients.

It's been estimated there are approximately 25 million household cats age 7 and older in the United States. These cats may spend more than one-third of their lives in the senior lifestage. There's a good chance many of these older cats are suffering from painful and uncomfortable hairballs.

Your older feline patients are ready for a nutritionally-balanced mature food. And now you can give it to them, along with the right daily feeding formula to help control hairballs. New Science Diet Hairball Control Formula Senior is the solution cat owners have been asking for. Now you have the solution to

for:

They're messy. They're annoying. But they're a natural fact of life with a cat. That's why Nutro has created Natural Choice Hairball Management, a nutritious Natural Choice formula that's scientifically balanced to reduce shedding, minimizing hairballs.

What causes hairballs?

Because cats spend so much time grooming and cleaning themselves, they tend to swallow quite a bit of hair. Hair is difficult to digest, so it can accumulate in the cat's stomach and become a source of irritation. Ultimately, cats cough it up in the form of a hairball. It's not a particularly pleasant chain of events for your cat, or for you, either.

Natural Choice Hairball Management stops hairballs before they start.

Natural Choice Hairball Management is great tasting, premium quality nutrition that offers you a revolutionary approach to hairball control.

promoting healthy skin coat, Natural Choice Hairball Management is specifically formulated to minimize shedding, so hairballs are less likely to form. Plus, Nutro's exclusive FiberCLEAN™ blend keeps the digestive tract functioning efficiently. Utilizing a high level of natural oat fiber, the FiberCLEAN™ system enhances gut motility, to help hair that is swallowed pass through.

While it offers an extremely effective defense against hairball problems, Natural Choice Hairball Management also offers excellent overall nutrition for a strong immune system and general good health. We use only the highest quality ingredients for superior performance. What's more, cats prefer Natural Choice Hairball Management over the other hairball brand.
